LABOR DAY TRAFFIC DEATH TOLL REDUCED BY A SURGE OF SAFETY CONSCIOUSNESS

By The Associated Press

Labor Day holiday traffic deaths topped the 400 mark, but a late surge of safety consciousness was credited today with "saving of at least 40 lives."

As late reports trickled in, an Associated Press tabulation covering the period from 6 p. m. (local time) Friday to midnight Monday showed there were at least 424 traffic deaths during the 78-hour weekend. There were 88 drownings and 71 deaths in a variety of accidents for an overall violent death toll of 583.

The National Safety Council had estimated at least 480 persons would die in traffic mishaps. Midway through the holiday, when deaths were occurring at the rate of about five an hour, the council anticipated its dire forecast would be realized.

Storm Clouds Hanging Over Cairo Meeting

Cairo (P)—President Nasser met today with his top advisers, presumably to frame his reply to a 12-nation plan for international control of the Suez Canal.

Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia also was in consultation with members of his five-nation committee. The committee presented the majority plan of the London Suez conference to Nasser yesterday.

A committee spokesman said Menzies so far has done most of the talking but Nasser is expected to have his say at the evening conference. Nasser has rejected international control of the canal he seized July 26.

Nasser met with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and his No. 1 political adviser, Ali Sabry. Sabry was in London as an observer during the Suez conference that Egypt refused to attend.

Both Fawzi and Sabry have attended the two meetings Nasser has held with the Menzies mission. The Australian legation was in contact with diplomatic representatives in Cairo of the 15 nations supporting the international control plan drafted by Secretary of State Dulles.

Despite the announced cordiality of the meetings, storm clouds still hung over Suez.

New Records Set at National Aircraft Show in Oklahoma

Oklahoma City (P)—Five records set or announced at the National Aircraft Show here pointed dramatically to the advances in the aviation industry and the new jet-strength of the armed forces.

The show was climaxed yesterday with the announcement that a Navy supersonic fighter plane—the Chance Vought F-105 Crusader—has set a National speed record of 1,015.428 m.p.h. in winning the Thompson Trophy Race. The jet plane and the pilot who flew it to a record, Cmdr. Robert W. "Duke" Windsor, drew plaudits from the 41,070 air show spectators with a streaking demonstration of the plane's speed and maneuverability.

Windsor set the record Aug. 21 in a timed flight over China Lake, Calif., pushing the Crusader to 1½ times the speed of sound. He broke the former American record of 322.135 posted Aug. 20, 1955, by Air Force Col. Horace A. Hanes. (Turn to Page Ten)

Officials Busy Preparing For Opening of Schools Wednesday

With more than 3,700 students starting the new term's classes Wednesday morning in Warren borough schools, teachers of all buildings are getting their affairs in order today.

All teachers new to the school system met with their principals at their respective buildings at 11:00 a. m. today; at 1:00 p. m., old and new faculty members met with their principals; and at 3:00 this afternoon, the entire teaching personnel gathers in Beaty Junior High.

Those who are new members will be introduced, there will be short talks by Dr. Carl E. Whipple, borough superintendent, and Gerald M. Newton, director of instruction. The meeting will then be turned over to Harry Hutchings, president of the Warren

Fourth Flash Flood During Summer Season Causes Much Damage in Boro and County

The fourth flash floods of the summer and the second within four days struck the Warren County area about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon after a downpour of cloudburst proportions dumped 1.38 inches of rain on the area in little over an hour.

The latest flash floods, fourth and least severe of a series which began July 26, again struck hard in the Indian Hollow and Glade Run areas, sending a foot-deep muddy stream down West Fifth street to Conewango and flooding low lying areas along previously flooded Locust and Swiss streets near Glade Run.

Debris clogged Indian Hollow Run just south of upper Fifth street and the angry, muddy current spilled over into adjoining property and swept down Fifth, a foot deep in some places.

This saved previously hit sections along Orchard and Brook Street from much of the flood but waters again poured over Conewango avenue where Indian Run is supposed to flow underneath. Waters from another hillside stream about three blocks north of Fifth avenue also poured down the hillside and spilled over its banks, flooding further up Orchard Street.

Water again flowed onto Beaty Field which has not been completely dry since July. Glade Run was mostly contained with a second exception where the road to Irvinedale joins upper Park street.

Well Known Wildlife Enthusiast Is Leaving

Donald E. Taft who has been administrative assistant in the Warren office of the U. S. Forest Service for a number of years, has been transferred to Silver City, N. M., where he has been assigned in the same capacity in the National Forest of that area. Mr. Taft, well known as one of the most enthusiastic members of the Warren Field and Stream Club and similar organizations interested in wildlife and outdoor sports has a host of friends who will regret to learn of his departure but join in wishing him the best of everything in his new position.

Police Are Probing Some Good Leads In Kidnaping Case

Hamden, Conn. (P)—Leads quickly fizzled out, but authorities sounded optimistic that kidnapped Cynthia Ruotolo would be recovered alive.

State's Atty. Abraham S. Ullman came out of a conference with police investigators and FBI agents last night and told reporters:

"I think we can still look for discovery of the child." Ullman had earlier expressed the belief the child was taken not by someone who wanted ransom money but rather someone who just wanted a baby.

Cynthia was kidnapped from her carriage in the foyer of a Sears Roebuck department store Saturday—exactly six weeks to the day she was born. It was the first day out of the house since the birth for both the child and her 33-year-old mother Eleanor.

Ullman said the best lead police have is a composite description given by shoppers and passers-by of a stocky, little woman with a dark complexion. They said they saw such a person take a baby out of its carriage but thought nothing of it at the time.

Others said they saw such a woman walking across the store parking lot carrying a baby awkwardly.

Ullman said police conferred with Dr. Elizabeth Harrison, a pediatrician who treated Cynthia for a head cold the day before she was kidnapped.

The Ruotolos—Stephen, the father, is an $80-a-week painter. (Turn to Page Ten)

July and August Are Wettest on Record

One of the wettest months of August on record has closely followed on the heels of one of the wettest Julys on record. A total of 9.07 inches of rain fell during the month which was climaxed by a deluge of 1.38 inches the final day. Previous August rainfall has listed 8.65 inches in 1955, 2.96 inches in 1954 and 2.34 inches in 1953.

A measurable amount of rain fell on 17 days of August this year and the total precipitation of 9.07 inches brought the total rainfall for the year to date to a sopping 37.70 inches, undoubtedly a new record. In July which saw only three days without rain, 7.31 inches of rain fell.

Five August days saw more than an inch of rain fall. Preceding the flash flood of Aug. 6th there were successive day falls of 1.20 and 1.73 inches. Then one inch fell on the 19th, another 1.09 inches fell on the 28th when another flash flood arrived and the weekend deluge of 1.39 inches on Friday tripped the lever for the month's third flash flood.

FLOODS COST AREA CLOSE TO $100,000

Although the Friday deluges brought damages to county highways estimated at only $2,700, the overall flood damage figure for the year stands close to $100,000 now. Most destructive flood of the year was the first deluge of the summer on July 26 when bridges alone were damaged to the extent of $30,500 and road repairs cost $26,500.

Eleven days later, repair costs of $7,000 for highways and $2,300 on bridges were incurred in the second deluge. On August 28th, repairs amounted to an estimated $8,150. Previous flood damage came to $15,875 on March 10th when the Allegheny River rampaged and another bill of $7,060 was run up when certain areas were flash flooded on May 13. In Warren, property damages are running into tens of thousands of dollars.

There the current once again swelled beyond its banks and sent a small rivulet circling around the garage there. Elsewhere in the county there was also localized flooding as streams poured from their banks after the more than inch of rainfall in an hour ran off immediately. Pennsylvania avenue was flooded down by Warren Concrete Products company at the west side of town.

County highway superintendent, Chester Walker, said the damages, mostly in new districts, would amount to about $2,700 throughout the county.

Legislative Route 61025 out of Starbuck was badly hit as the rapid waters washed out berms and clogged drains. LR 61030, known as Grunderville Road, was also quite hard hit when the stream near Girl Scout Camp Bird. (Turn to Page Ten)

With field registrations today at Columbus and Russell, voters continue to sign up for the November elections. Friday, 41 Republicans signed up at Sugar Grove and 10 at Spring Creek, against 28 and one Democrats respectively. One Prohibitionist and three non-partisans also enlisted at Sugar Grove.

Republicans Lead Democrats in Co. 12,007 to 5,250

Last Thursday, six Republicans and six Democrats registered at Eldred, with Democrats leading 19 to 11 in registrations at Wrightsville. One non-partisan and one Prohibitionist also signed up.

This brings the overall registration in Warren County to date to 12,007 Republicans and 5,250 Democrats.

Field registrations continue tomorrow at Tidoute and Kinzua, with Youngsville and Sheffield scheduled for Thursday and Youngsville and Clarendon set for Friday.

Registration hours are from 1 to 8 p. m.

Bride of Three Months Victim Of Holiday Fatality in County

DEATH MACHINE—The side of this vehicle was shoved in almost two feet Saturday night when it skidded directly across the path of an approaching car on Matthews Run Road north of Youngsville. Mrs. Jane Lafferty, 27, of RD 1, Meadville, was killed instantly by a broken neck, and her husband, Eugene, 24, remains in a coma at Warren General Hospital. Timesphoto by Saylor.

A Grim Reaper stalked Warren county highways over Labor Day weekend, snaring his ninth traffic fatality of the year Saturday night on rainswept Matthews Run Road north of Youngsville.

Fatally injured was Jane Therese Lafferty, 27, of RD 1, Meadville.

Her husband, Eugene Lafferty, 24, driver of the car which skidded into another on a curve, is listed in "poor" condition at Warren General Hospital with a broken right leg, multiple bruises and abrasions and possible internal injuries. He lapsed into a coma Sunday morning.

The Lafferty machine was headed north on Route 27 about seven miles out of Youngsville when the machine skidded on a rain-slick curve.

As the rear of the vehicle slewed across the highway it was rammed head-on by a southbound machine driven by William Chase, 16, of RD 2, Sugar Grove.

Minutes later a second northbound car driven by Francis Hurlley, 19, of RD 1, Sugar Grove rammed into the wreckage as it sat on the highway shrouded by the rain.

Chase and two other passengers in the southbound machine, Joyce Johnson, 16, of Pittsfield, and John Gregory, 16 of RD 2, Sugar Grove, were treated at Warren General Hospital for brush burns and body bruises. Chase also suffered a laceration near his left eye.

Driver of the third vehicle which rammed into the tail of the Chase car as it sat diagonally on the highway, and a passenger, Vaune Britt, 17, of Youngsville, were badly shaken by the crash.

The victim, Jane Lafferty, was a passenger in the "suicide seat" next to the driver. Her neck was broken by the impact.

Joining in the investigation were State Troopers George Kleins and George Mosorjak, Sheriff L. E. Linder, Chief Deputy Don Allen and Coroner Ed Lowrey, following which a certificate of death from a broken neck accidentally received was issued and the body was released to the family about three o'clock Sunday morning. It was removed to Meadville where. (Turn to Page Ten)

FATAL COLLISION

Altoona (P)—A man and woman were hospitalized today with injuries suffered in a head-on, two-car crash that killed the woman's husband. The dead man was William Hummel of New Enterprise. He was riding in a car operated by his wife, Mary, 36, who suffered shock. The driver of the other car, James Lumadue of Cresson, was reported in serious condition.

Ike Offers To Make Available To Adlai Confidential Reports

Washington (P)—President Eisenhower today formally offered his Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson, weekly confidential briefings on foreign intelligence reports received by the government.

The President sent a telegram to Stevenson setting forth the offer. Eisenhower's action came after Stevenson expressed a wish that he might have such information.

In commenting on Stevenson's desire for the information, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said last Saturday that Eisenhower all along had intended to offer confidential briefings to his opponent. Hagerty said then, that a formal offer to Stevenson would be made very shortly.

Hagerty said today that Eisenhower wired Stevenson "offering him weekly briefings on intelligence data."

Stevenson had recalled that he received such briefings from President Harry Truman in 1952 when he, Stevenson, ran against Eisenhower the first time.

Eisenhower also received such briefings from the Truman administration during the 1952 campaign.

Stevenson said last week that intelligence briefings would give him the necessary information when discussing foreign policy during this year's campaign.

The briefings offered to Stevenson today would be compiled weekly from intelligence reports which go to the President more frequently.

Harry Blasts G.O.P. In Labor Day Talk At Milwaukee, Wis.

Milwaukee (P)—Harry S. Truman peppered the Republicans yesterday throughout his Labor Day schedule here, describing the GOP administration as "dominated by money changers" and "staffed by 'legal racketeers' and 'advertising salesmen.'"

Admiral Dennison Is Honored At Many Unusual Happenings

Since Warren's Vice Admiral Robert L. Dennison took command of the First Fleet June 18, he has been honored in many exciting and unusual events, according to a letter just received from William Thompson, Lt., USN, public information officer of the United States Pacific Fleet.

One of these pertains to the American Legion convention in Los Angeles. On Saturday Admiral Dennison represented the Chief of Naval Operations and the Navy Department on a panel discussion before the Legion National Security Commission. MANY OF 796 WHITE PUPILS JOIN BOYCOTT

Clinton, Tenn. (P)—Nine of 18 Negroes enrolled in Clinton High School reported for classes today and many of the 796 white pupils stayed away as militiamen, busy during the night quelling a mob at nearby Oliver Springs, patrolled this center of anti-integration tension.

While some of the white students lined the entrance jeering, six Negro youths went into the school's front entrance just before the 8:50 a. m. opening bell. Three Negro girls arrived by private car and entered a side door.

"What are they going to do in school today by themselves," one of the white students yelled, indicating a boycott on the part of some of the whites. Many white school busses, usually filled with students standing, carried only a few today.

The comparatively quiet resumption of classes at the school, which integrated a week ago, was in sharp contrast to a tumultuous night in which a National Guard force raced to Oliver Springs to put down a gun-shooting mob.

Guardsmen in jeans circled the block around the school here as the students started straggling up. One bus which usually hauls 60 students had only nine this morning. An attractive red-haired girl stayed in her seat, crying bitterly.

With the troops rigidly enforcing a ban on public gatherings, there was no crowd of townspeople at the school. There were many newsmen and photographers.

Adj. Gen. Joe Henry, commander of the guard, mounted the school steps and talked briefly to the pupils congregated outside. He suggested they go to their classes.

Ronald Gust, an assistant coach, joined Henry. He told the pupils "I think we ought to go to school."

About 20 boys followed him in.

School officials later estimated attendance at about 50 per cent. A bullet-spattered riot broke out in Oliver Springs, 12 miles southwest of here, last night after dynamite blasts were set off in the little village's Negro residential section, but Clinton marked its. (Turn to Page Ten)

Salary Boosts for Sylvania Employees Effective at Once

A publicity release from the Public Relations Department of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., in New York says Sylvania has announced a wage and salary increase for its employees.

The increase, which is effective September 3, 1956, ranges from 5 to 8 cents an hour for hourly employees, and is 3 per cent of total earnings for salary employees. The company has more than 27,000 employees.

Col H. Pilcher, Sylvania's director of industrial relations, said the increase was the second phase of a three-year schedule of pay increases that originally became effective on August 29, 1955. On that date, increases of 5 to 13 cents an hour for hourly employees and 4 per cent of earnings for salary employees became effective. On September 1, 1957, a third increase of 5 to 8 cents an hour for hourly employees and 8 per cent of earnings for salary employees will become effective.

Variety of Highway Incidents Keep Troopers of the Warren Barracks Busy Over Weekend

Incidents of tragedy, unfortunate horseplay, hit and run suspensions and just plain accidents were recorded over the holiday weekend as Warren County highways and byways were paved with activity.

Tragedy came early during the long Labor Day weekend as Mrs. Jane Lafferty, 27, of Meadville, was killed Saturday night when the vehicle in which she was riding skidded into another on Matthews Run Road north of Youngsville. (See page one story.)

Unfortunate horseplay resulted in a bad injury about 6 p.m. Sunday in Kinzua. Connie Jenkins, 16, of Kinzua was riding on the right front fender of a vehicle driven by Jeanne Wilson, 17, also of Kinzua.

When the driver applied the brakes to swing around a corner, the Jenkins girl slid off the front of the vehicle. Before the car stopped it had run over her.

Treated first in Warren General Hospital for a broken right shoulder and leg, Miss Jenkins was transferred to Hamot Hospital in Erie on Labor Day.

Hit and run suspensions touched off a search of roadsides for 10 miles in the Kinzua section along Route 59 Sunday evening.

According to a motorist's story, he saw a man walking ahead in the road as he drove along following a Cadillac. When the lead Cadillac had passed, the pedestrian was no longer to be seen.

So, the motorist continued, he gave chase to the Cadillac toward Warren but could not get close enough to take the license plate number.

By the time the motorist had continued on past Warren to Corry, he began to feel that perhaps the incident should be reported.

Corry state troopers were informed and they in turn relayed the information to Warren. Sgt. Donald Holmes, at the local barracks, at once instituted a search in the chance that a man was dying somewhere along the road.

Kinzua Volunteer Firemen were called out, and along with troopers, combed the roadsides for about ten miles. Another trooper was sent out Labor Day morning to look over the area in light, but so far no victim has been found.

In the just plain accident category, Keith Anderson, 21, of 314 Pennsylvania avenue, east, was southbound on Route 62 out of Russell when he collided with a northbound machine on the bad curve about 1:15 a.m. Sunday.

His wife, Darlene Anderson, 17, was treated at Warren General Hospital for bad bruise burns on knees and both arms. Other occupants in the Anderson machine were George Hansen and wife, Shirley, of Jackson Run.

Driver of the northbound car was Thomas Boyle, Jr., 22, of 7 Academy Street, Freewburg.

At about 3 p.m. Saturday on Page Hollow Road eight miles west of Youngsville, a machine operated by Francis B. Jones, 36, of 545 West Third street, Jamestown, rolled over when it went out of control.

He and a passenger, Robert Stewart, 28, of 324 Willard Street, Jamestown, were both badly shaken up in the mishap. Jones will be charged with reckless driving.

Other accident investigation by local troopers revealed that Edward Novotny, 22, of Erie was operator of the car which roared off Route 59 a mile above Marconi Outing Club about 4 a.m. last Thursday.

Two accidents were also reported in the borough of Warren on Saturday.

At 8:20 p.m. C. Emerson Simpson, 30, of 106 Alexander Street, tried to pass on the right a tractor-trailer proceeding east on Pennsylvania avenue. At the same time the truck was passing on the right of another car and in the squeeze play, car was damaged about $50, truck, $5.

READER'S BODY UNCLAIMED
Jamestown Sun: Joseph Reade Jr., 27-year-old Jamestown man who was electrocuted at Sing Sing Prison Thursday night for the assault slaying of his sister-in-law and her 19-month-old daughter, will be buried in an unmarked grave, according to Sing Sing Prison authorities. Prison authorities said no relative appeared at the prison to claim his body.

Reade's survivors include his wife and daughter; his mother, Mrs. Theodora Kline of Jamestown; and three brothers, Francis, husband and father of the murdered pair; Paul, and Charles, the latter his only visitor in the Sing Sing death house. The Sing Sing warden said he would make arrangements for the burial of Reade's body in a cemetery near Ossining.

LETTERS TO EDITOR
T Parker street
Warren, Penna.
August 30, 1956

Gentlemen:
Several days ago I read your Editorial concerning the building of a new high school. I groaned. Oh, surely, someone will tell the people the whole truth about the situation; we're intelligent people; we can't just accept a renovation of the old high school!

Disnay deepened when I read letters to the editors agreeing with you. Where was the howl of protest your editorial should have incurred (or did you prefer not to print it)?

... Please, let us not continue the disservice to the community your stand against the new high school is promoting.

Sincerely,
ZURETA EVANS

Publisher's Note:
We maintain that the existing high school can be successfully and safely remodeled with a large addition to fit the needs of this community. We emphasize the importance of central location. Even if the authorities decide an entirely new building is required, it could be built with greater long term economy on the present site than on the Swick site. Let us not forget the indirect costs to the borough if the school is located outside our city limits. The majority of people will find their needs better served in a location which is easily accessible. It is gratifying to find our citizens taking a healthy interest in this problem, even though some may disagree with our stand.

New Statue of Ancient Warrior
Surveys Historic Battleground

Gettysburg (P)—A statue of an ancient warrior — last surviving member of the Northern Army — sits proudly erect on a fallen tree to survey the meadow across which Pickett led the famous charge of the gallant Confederate forces in a losing cause a century ago.

The Albert Woolson bronze depicts the Union veterans in his declining years, his gnarled hand resting on a walking stick. He wears the blue uniform of the Republic, which he donned as a young drummer boy in the waning months of the Civil War.

The statue, slightly larger than life size, is the creation of Dr. Ovard Fairbanks, noted Western sculptor. It arrived last week at this national shrine — scene of the bloody battle that historians have called the turning point of the war, where the strife-torn nation's president later delivered his immortal address.

The memorial will be formally dedicated Sept. 12. Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant III grandson of the famed Union general, is to deliver the principal address.

The national auxiliary of the Sons of Union Veterans raised $17,000 to commission the statue as a tribute to Woolson and all his comrades in arms who have long since passed on.

Woolson died at the age of 109 Aug. 2 in Duluth, Minn., the last of 400,000 GAR veterans. He did not participate in the battle of Gettysburg. Three veterans of the Confederate Army survive. The oldest now is 113.

Game Commission
Holds Conference
At Forestry School

Last week a four-day in-service training conference of Pennsylvania Game Commission personnel was held at the State Forestry School, Mont Alto, Franklin County. The theme of the conference was "Land Management, and Research as it Applies to Land Management." The meeting was attended by Commissioners, Dr. Logan J. Bennett, Executive Director, members of the Harrisburg staff, and Game Protectors from all over the state. The Penn State University placed the School facilities at the disposal of Game Commission personnel for the convention.

"The purpose of an annual conference of our field personnel," commented Dr. Bennett, "is to concentrate on land management practices and review the latest methods and procedures in relation to game management."

Four Pennsylvania officials, guest speakers from outside the Game Commission, addressed the group. They were: W. L. Henning, Secretary of the Department of Agriculture; William Voigt, Jr., Executive Director of the Fish Commission; James Eakin, Agronomy Extension Specialist, The Pennsylvania State University; and Ivan McKeever, State Conservationist of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

During the conference a pistol match was held, following which two trophies were awarded. One was the (Commissioner) John C. Herman trophy; the other was the Field Division Supervisors' Trophy. Range officers for the shoot were Lieutenant L. M. Whitecotton and Sergeant Edward Crothers, who are in charge of the ballistics laboratory of the Pennsylvania State Police.

Federal Interstate System

(Editors: This another part of the interstate series sheds some light on the future of toll road building in Pennsylvania. It also presents the controversy raging between supporters of the proposed Keystone Shortway and U. S. 6 as they relate to the federal interstate system.)

By DICK HOENIG
Harrisburg (P) — Five important state and federal officials agree that the new interstate highway system points toward the end of the toll road era.

Their thoughts are summarized by a statement Gov. Leader made soon after 25 billion dollars was appropriated by Congress on June 29 to complete the freeway network in the next 15-18 years.

"I honestly think that toll roads are becoming a thing of the past," the governor declared. "It seems to me that we're moving from the era of toll roads to an era of free interstate arteries."

At the same time the governor ordered the 20-year-old Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, granddaddy of all toll road agencies, to suspend all expansion plans pending clarification of the interstate system.

Commission chairman G. Franklin McSorley; Charles D. Curtiss, commissioner of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads; John L. Stinson, the bureau's Pennsylvania district engineer; and State Highway Secretary Joseph J. Lawler all echo Leader's belief.

Curtiss—"It seems to me that there will not be much point in building a toll road when the state can get 90 per cent of federal money and put up 10 per cent of its own money."

Stinson—"I very definitely think we are moving from the era of the toll road to that of the free road. Obviously, from what is happening in other states where proposed toll roads are being eliminated in favor of the new interstate system the question sort of answers itself."

Lawler—"It is the duty of the highways Department to continue to expand the free highways system as anticipated if Pennsylvania's highway needs are to be met in the next 20 years."

McSorley—"The toll road era is on the way out—the government provides so much in the way of services that the people come to believe that the state and federal government will also take care of road facilities. Once you build free roads no one will use toll roads."

But McSorley maintains that he cannot see the end of Pennsylvania's 408-mile toll road system "in the near future."

"I don't contemplate the federal government taking over toll road facilities immediately," he said.

The commission chairman based that thinking on two points: The longer the delay the better "bargain" the federal government would get if it decides to reimburse the owners for the turnpike, since each year more borrowed money is paid off; 2 it will take at least several construction seasons before much of the interstate system is ready for use and in the meantime mounting traffic pressure will make toll roads necessary.

McSorley held out hope for just one turnpike extension plan. That is the authorized and designed 46-mile link across Erie County connecting the New York Thruway and a proposed extension of the Ohio Turnpike.

"I have it on good authority that this section can be financed independently of the existing bond agreements and the existing parts of the turnpike system," McSorley added. "This is the only exception to the overall thinking of holding up all expansion."

McSorley made the statement despite a July 26 announcement by Lawler that the Highways Department had taken over the project "with the idea of expediting completion of the plans."

"At that time Lawler said he did not believe a toll connection was financially feasible but that the road was needed and should be built as a free highway. He has directed his deputy to ascertain the status of the design plans so it can be expedited.

The "crossbar" route along the Lake Erie shoreline is on the approved general location map for the interstate system in Pennsylvania. Financing the leg has been held up because of the financial market's present dim outlook on turnpike bonds.

"This one project might be better off in the hands of the commission," McSorley said, "since opening of the connection might cause some suffering on the main stem by diverting traffic."

The main stem of the turnpike could become part of the interstate system if the state requests it in the normal way and it is approved by federal authorities, Stinson said. The law specifically authorizes toll road approval "when such sections will promote the development of an integrated interstate system."

Only the main east-west turnpike route is on the adopted map of general locations for interstate roads. If included some time in the future, Stinson said, it would remain under the control of the Turnpike Commission and tolls would continue.

Another part of the 1956 law provides that Congress will determine in the future whether the government should "equitably reimburse" states for the costs of highways, "whether toll or free," added to the interstate system. But highways built before Aug. 2, 1947 are not eligible so the original 160 turnpike miles from Irwin to Middlesex, opened in 1940, is ruled out for federal reimbursement.

The 1955 Legislature authorized the Turnpike Commission to build a Sharon-Stroudsburg extension if financially possible. Several surveys have been completed but McSorley does not think it would be feasible "for many years to come from the standpoint of financing by the Turnpike Commission."

This drawing board project, called the Keystone Shortway, has precipitated a boiling controversy. Interests along U. S. 6 are seeking inclusion of that route in the 90-10 sided freeway network. They say if it is left out the northern tier counties will suffer a great economic blow.

The Keystone Shortway Assn. supports the alternate shortway route for including on the interstate system rather than U. S. 6 because it is along the shortest possible line between New York City and Chicago.

U. S. 6 runs across northern Pennsylvania from Millport to Conneaut Lake, some 400 miles. The mileage on a straight line from Sharon to Stroudsburg is estimated at 290. The two lines are within 50 miles of each other at most points.

The Highways Department favors the shortway and in July Lawler asked the bureau if the shortway route could be considered for inclusion in the interstate system rather than U. S. 6, as originally planned.

"We have been advised that consideration would be given, when properly supported, to such adjustments as the Shortway Route in the previously conceived plans as would be justified," Stinson reported.

In other words, he explained, federal authorities are prepared to consider taking the Shortway Route.

"It must be emphasized that it is the state's initiative as to what it prefers on the system and the selection of precise locations is not at the bureau's instigation," Stinson emphasized.

He believes it "would be very difficult to fit U. S. 6 as it now stands into the interstate pattern," he said. U. S. 6 was never designated as part of the network.

Stinson and the department both would like to see "a lot of U. S. 6 improved to acceptable standards."

"There is nothing to stop Pennsylvania from getting improvements through federal aid funds in any route it wishes, including U. S. 6, providing they are primary in character," Stinson said. This would be under the other three 50-50 aid programs.

Stinson gave this as the bureau's thinking on the controversy:

"Our position is that the location of the east-west highway in the northern half of the state on the interstate system should be determined on the basis of the state's request with their support through such an area that generally serves the state in the best possible manner and also ties in with the interstate system or other state connections that are obviously necessary."

Joseph H. DeFrees, president of the Allegheny Valve Co., spent last week in East Lansing, Mich., at the Kellogg Institute, Michigan State University. He was an instructor at the second annual school for tank truck transportation of chemicals, gases, foods, and dry commodities. This course is given by the National Tank Truck Carriers, Inc., in conjunction with the School of Engineering and the College of Education on Michigan State University.

Mr. DeFrees' paper and discussion course dealt with vents, manholes, fittings, and piping. Approximately 200 manufacturers, haulers, and tank truck engineers from Canada and the United States are enrolled at Kellogg Center for the course.

LIGHTNING HITS TWICE

Jamestown Sun: Lightning struck twice in the city during Friday afternoon's thunderstorm: Company 4 firemen went to the home of Adolph Carlson of 28 Dearing Avenue at 5:05 p. m. when lightning hit the second floor of the house. There was no fire. The fire chief's car was sent to the home of F. A. Burgeson of 68 Blanchard street at 4:45 p. m. when lightning hit an electric wire in the attic and caused a short circuit. Fuses were blown in the house but there was no fire. August was a rainy month in Jamestown with weather observers at City Hall measuring 5.43 inches for the month, including almost an inch the last two days.

AUGUST RAIN FALL

According to the Era a total rainfall of more than 10½ inches was experienced in Bradford during the month of August, according to the rain chart at Central Fire Station. Personnel in charge of the precipitation gauge there said it was "by far" the greatest total registered during any August since the equipment was installed in 1947. Exact figures for comparison were not available last night. Precipitation figures submitted to the Weather Bureau office at Pittsburgh indicated 9.82 inches had fallen up to 8 a. m. yesterday. Yesterday's downpours added seven-tenths of an inch for a month's total of 10.52 inches.

PRAISE NEW STATE MAP

The new, official map of Pennsylvania is being distributed. Sportsmen who have seen it declare it is an improvement over the one produced about one year ago. Beyond being an excellent road guide the map clearly shows, in variations of green patterns, State Game Lands, State parks and picnic areas, State Fish Hatcheries and the Allegheny National Forest. On the cover, below the name of George M. Leader, Governor, appear: "Department of Highways," "Department of Forests and Waters" and "Pennsylvania Game Commission," along with the names of the officials heading the agencies.

Wilksburg Barber Conservation Camp
Furnishes a Wide Variety of Service

Pittsburgh (P)—A haircut while joining in an impromptu hymn recital? A shave while listening to "Rock of Ages" played on an organ? Either or both of these can happen when you visit Ken's barber shop in nearby Wilksburg.

And that's not all. Kenneth Mack, a Korean War veteran who took to barbering when he got out of the service, is ready to provide his customers with almost any service.

"He keeps a supply of umbrellas for folks caught in rainstorms. On hand, too, is a typewriter and a ham radio set for anyone desiring to use them."

In a corner of his shop, Ken keeps a compact, Army-surplus organ he bought for the hymn recitals. Although he doesn't play himself, Ken is willing to let anyone with the ability to sit down and give it a try.

Even strangers waiting for streetcars on a nearby corner are invited to play. With so many players coming in and out of the shop, one is likely to hear a hymn recital at any time of the day.

Ken is a friendly, deeply religious young man. He's always ready to help the church or anyone in need. He is a member of the board of Youth for Christ. While in Korea, he drove a jeep for evangelist Billy Graham when he toured the battlefields.

Wilksburg is known as the "town of churches" and most of the district's ministers come to Ken's shop. Ken is flattered but he says he's not sure whether it's because of the music; because no swearing is allowed in his shop, or because they like the original oil paintings by his father-in-law which decorate the walls.

With all his activities Ken is kept pretty busy but he can work in a shave and haircut if that is what you come for. Everybody wants to see the unique establishment nicknamed "The Christian Barber Shop" in the "town of churches."

"SCHOOL'S OPEN—DRIVE CAREFULLY!"

With the re-opening of schools in the borough and rural districts this week, it may be well to remind that students are not the only persons who will have to be on their toes to help guard against accidents.

Because of amendments to the State school bus regulations, motorists should keep in mind that they are not permitted to pass a school bus while it is loading or discharging passengers—and this applies to borough as well as the open highways.

As has been pointed out in the past, all school buses are supposed to be equipped with clearance lamps that will be flashing while students are loading or being discharged from the vehicles. Traffic must be halted while the signal lights are in operation.

While we're on the subject of helping to safeguard the kiddies, officers of the Warren County Motor Club deserve a special word of praise for the "School's Open Drive Carefully" campaign which has already been inaugurated through the colorful posters that have been placed in conspicuous spots near the buildings, and bumper strips bearing the message which are being distributed to car owners.

As stated in publicity calling attention to the drive, specific things that motorists are being asked to do in connection with the campaign are: 1—scrupulously obey special speed limits near schools; 2—be extra alert for children crossing streets at unexpected places, such as from between parked cars or in mid-blocks; 3—learn to recognize and cooperate with School Safety Patrol boys and girls, and finally, 4—be especially alert and careful when operating a car near school buses.

GAVIN DOING GREAT JOB

Says the Franklin News-Herald:

Venango County residents—in fact all those in the seven counties of the 23rd District—like the way in which Congressman Leon H. Gavin has taken care of every major problem, and the painstaking, efficient service he has given every reasonable request. He merits every consideration, and your vote, for re-election.

Not in a generation or longer has this district had a representative in Congress who has done so much, traveled so far or given so willingly of his time to further the interests of all the district, or battle in behalf of Pennsylvania oil and coal, as well as protecting our forests and working for flood control.

Our congratulations are extended to The Forest Press for the 32-page edition printed last week in connection with the Tionesta Centennial celebration. Replete with pictures and news of the past and present, the publication will doubtless be preserved by most readers as an interesting souvenir of an eventful period in the community's history.

BUSINESS TUNES UP

Business activity surged back strongly in August following the resumption of production by the nation's steel mills, says "Business Trends", issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland. The recovery in steel output was unusually rapid after the prolonged labor dispute. Production in August, as a whole, will average about 70 percent of capacity, but output of steel this week was estimated at 96.5 percent of capacity, or equal to the rate in early June.

Good news for hundreds of employees in the Warren area is the announcement that Sylvania Electric Products Inc. has posted a wage and salary increase effective September 3, which ranges from five to eight cents an hour for hourly workers and three per cent of total earnings for salary employees.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plentiful, but the labourers are few.—Matthew 9:37.

The temptations of prosperity insinuate themselves after a gentle, but very powerful manner; so that we are but little aware of them and less able to withstand them.—Atterbury.

Here and There

"What kind of a day was it" when Warren had a gigantic celebration fifty years ago yesterday? Quite unlike that of Monday, according to the papers of September 4, 1906. One article in recounting the eventful holiday says: "The celebration of Labor Day in Warren was marked with more than usual success and satisfaction to those who had the affair in charge. The heavy rains of the night before and the early morning served to lay the dust and to cool the air, viewed from the weather standpoint, was an ideal one. The crowds early began thronging into the city, every car on the W. and J. and Sheffield lines bringing people into the city from Jamestown, Akeley, Russell, Clarendon and Sheffield, and other points along the suburban trolley lines. The steam railroads also brought their quota of visitors. The grand parade, which was scheduled to start at ten did not get under way until 11:30 due to delay in arrival of some of the visiting organizations from Jamestown x x x The route of march was changed somewhat from the original plans, owing to the muddy condition of unpaved streets, and therefore the procession was confined to the paved streets x x x The ox roast on the south side which was served by Austin Woodbeck, of Corydon, and a number of capable assistants, was all that could be desired. Seven hundred pounds of beef was put into the oven at five o'clock Sunday afternoon and when the time to serve it came Monday, it was in prime condition, juicy and tender, and the feast was partaken of by about 1,000 persons. Six hundred loaves of bread were cut up for sandwiches and an immense number of gallons of coffee was made to satisfy the thirst of the eaters."

Considering the interest that has been received in the sport through the enthusiasm of the Jaycees recently this item under the heading "Good Tennis Games Were Played Monday", proves rather timely: "Some remarkably good tennis was played Monday afternoon at the Cray courts, when Warren and Kane played each other and Warren won out handily." Players listed as defending the honors for Warren were: Vernon, Ball and M. Cray.

Other items that make timely reading for present-day subscribers cover these items: "Charles Northrop was in town for the night reporting that work on the Corry and Columbus trolley line has been completed and the system is now in operation." "At the regular meeting of the Warren Lodge of Elks W. V. Geer was nominated to succeed W. H. Gates as exalted ruler, since Mr. Gates is removing to Butler. The Elks are preparing to move into their new home on Hickory street, but it will be about two months before the rooms will be ready for occupancy." "The public schools opened Monday with a very good attendance although there were a large number of absentees on account of the Labor Day celebration. Today at noon there was reported an attendance in the several buildings of 1,800 students, divided as follows: High School 426; Jefferson street, 399; Fourth Ward, 188; East Street, 300; Sixth Ward, 378; Central, 108."

September 13 has been designated Commander John Barry Day in Pennsylvania by Gov. George Leader in honor of the "Father of the American Navy". Barry, who died September 13, 1803, was named the first commander of the U. S. Navy when it was established in 1794.

The Titusville Herald has received a copy of the special July 4 edition of the "Irish Times", published in Dublin, Ireland, in which two full pages are devoted to the story of oil in Ireland and the world. The exposition, written in scholarly form, begins with the genesis of oil during the earth's beginnings, and its brief mention in the early history of the world—in Persia, on the Caspian Sea, in China and the Byzantium Empire. Then begins the modern story in 1848, beginning with Samuel Kier, George Bissell, Professor Silliman and Col. Edwin L. Drake. The entire story of the Drake well then follows in logical and correct order. Also included in these pages is a history of oil transport and storage, several paragraphs on the age of oil, stories on the refining of oil, drilling for oil, world without oil, portrait of an oilman and Esso depots in the provinces. Illustrations include a horse paraffin oil tank wagon of the early 1900s, the Esso Dublin terminal, Foynes ocean terminal, a petrol supply station, the new Esso bulk plant at Sligo, Shannon airport, the Esso refinery at Fawley, Southampton, the largest road tanker in use in Ireland and the new Esso bulk plant in Cork. The paper was sent by Capt. Henry Seville Jerome, head of the Irish Naval Service for ten years, who will resign Nov. 30. He was formerly a commander in the Royal Navy and was decorated with the DSO by the late King George in 1946 for distinguished service.

SOCIETY

Area Bridge Players Are Anticipating Tournament

The annual Warren Bridge Tournament is always the occasion of considerable interest to area duplicate enthusiasts and this year's three-day schedule promises to be no exception.

Play will be at the Marconi Outing Club, getting under way at 3:00 p. m. Friday, September 14, with Edward Cherone, widely known and well liked director, in charge.

This first event will be the Mixed Pair game, with at least 20 tables expected to be in play. Following this match, and the Saturday evening event, all players will be treated to sandwiches and coffee.

A feature of the Sunday Team of Four competition is now becoming an annual one. All Sunday players will be guests of the Marconi Bridge Club for a delicious full course dinner between sessions.

All bridge players are welcome to any of the events, the tournament providing a golden opportunity to play against many of the finest in the northeastern part of the country. Those on hand usually include Canadian players, also. At least two Life Masters are expected to play in this year's tournament, with a possibility of several more attending.

Further information concerning the tourney may be had by calling Mrs. James Potter, Warren 2280-M.

Holiday Event at The Country Club

Seated at tables humorously and originally decorated to commemorate the 1956 Labor Day dinner-dance at the Conewango Valley Country Club Saturday evening, some 200 persons enthusiastically praised the clever efforts of the following committee, under whose guidance the affair was deemed highly successful: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Byron W. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Wanner and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur J. O'Connor.

Amid the versatile display appropriate to many trades, skills and professions (marked with mirth-provoking signs), partygoers enjoyed a delicious dinner. Dancing concluded the festivities, as guests heeded the gay instructions to "hop on the bandwagon" with George Johnson and his skillful musicians.

Next on the Country Club social calendar is a Hawaiian party scheduled for October 6.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY
There will be a special sewing meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary at Warren General Hospital directors' room at 1:30 p. m. Friday, and all members are asked to be in attendance.

GOOD WILL CLASS
The Good Will Class of Bethel EUB church will have a picnic supper at 6:30 this evening at Warr-Penn, with husbands and friends cordially invited. Each one is asked to bring a tureen, rolls and table service, the coffee and dessert to be provided. In case of rain, the affair will move indoors to the church dining room.

MARCONI BRIDGE
Marconi Bridge Club's monthly Master Point game was played in the downtown social rooms last evening, with maximum 216 and average 108 for both fields. Top scores were recorded by the following:

North-South—Mrs. Lucille Jones and Marion Fargo, Jamestown, 124; Mrs. Shuri Glass and Mrs. David Cropp, 122; Mrs. M. A. Kornreich and Mrs. Fred Weigle, 117; Mrs. Helen Rockwell and H. D. Kopf, Jr., 116 1/2.

East-West—Robert Larsen, Jamestown, and R. K. MacLean, 125; E. J. Rupp and James Breckinridge, Jamestown, 122; Mr. and Mrs. J. Howell, 121 1/2; A. J. Bova and Joseph A. Scallie, 119 1/2.

YWCA SCHEDULE
Wednesday—12:15, Kiwanis club.
Thursday—12:30, Polio committee tray lunch.
Friday—2:00, Council of Church Women's executive meeting.
Cafeteria hours Monday through Friday, 11:30 to 1:30, 5:00 to 6:30. (Participating members of Community Chest).

SALEM LADIES AID
The Ladies Aid Society of Salem EUB church will hold its meeting at the parsonage at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday, with Mrs. Francis Fehman as hostess. This being the first meeting of the new fall season, a large attendance is desired. Officers of the group in the coming year are: President, Mrs. Margaret Schwab; vice president, Mrs. Selma Rydholm; treasurer, Mrs. Myrtle Huber; secretary, Mrs. Florine Larsen.

PRE-SCHOOL GROUP
Members of the Pre-School Guidance Group will hold their first fall meeting at 8:30 this evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Povell, 1100 Conewango avenue, and a good turnout is desired.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST NEWS
Carrying out plans made at this year's camp meeting, a new district has been created for northwestern Pennsylvania. Seventh Day Adventist churches and another minister added. The Warren church was taken from Bradford District, Corry from Erie, and Oil City from Sharon, with Elder Harvey Saunders as the pastor.

Elder George Valentine held his farewell service at the local church a week ago, conducting a baptismal service in the afternoon, and the new minister preached his first sermon this past Sabbath. He wants to locate in Warren if he can find a house here.

Five from Warren will be going to Blue Mountain Academy this year, Grant and Norris Daugherty, Walter Ondrizek, Florence Calhoun and Kathryn Kerr. They will be going to college this fall. The local church school room has been enlarged and will have the largest enrollment in grammar grade. Their teacher will be Kenneth Seidel.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shattenberg have moved to Lottsville and will transfer their membership to the Corry church.

Wed in South Dakota

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deliman, Jackson street extension, announce the marriage of their daughter, Paula Jane, to Richard John Ahlgren, son of Mrs. Dorothy Ahlgren and the late Norman Ahlgren, 623 Conewango avenue. The ceremony was performed August 24 in Blessed Sacrament church in Rapid City, S. D., by Msgr. Bernard A. Drew, attendants being the bridegroom's sister, Audrey Ahlgren, and Bob Watt, both of Rapid City.

The Delimans and Mrs. Ahlgren will entertain in honor of the newlyweds Sundays, with a reception from two until five in the afternoon and seven until nine in the evening at the Ahlgren home.

Mr. Ahlgren is a graduate of Warren High School and is employed at DeLuxe; the bride is a senior in the local high school. They will reside in an apartment at the Mineral Well, Clarendon RD 1.

Marjorie Ellen Francis Is Bride of Thomas Francis Brown in Jamestown

A double ring ceremony performed in Lutheran Immanuel Church in Jamestown, united in marriage Miss Marjorie Ellen Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Francis of Falconer, N. Y., and Thomas Francis Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown, 122 Elm street, Warren, Saturday, September 1, at three p. m.

Rev. Axel V. Beckman officiated, and music was furnished by Howard Zettervall, organist, and vocalists Sally Saff and Phillip Thorsell. The altar was banked with graceful baskets of white gladioli and pom poms and held lighted candles. Pink gladioli in gold altar vases were placed in the church in memory of her grandmother, the late Mrs. Martina Benson.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace and tulle, with a sash and necktie, lace bodice, with lace over a tulle skirt, and lace sleeves which ended in a point over the wrist. Her silk illusion veil fell finger tip from a small lace cloche embroidered in seed pearls and sequins, and she carried a white prayer book, gift of the bridegroom, with white roses and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Jean Gustafson, of Lakewood, N. Y., and the bridesmaid, Miss Cecile Teressi and Miss Nancy Anderson, were dressed alike in mauve crystal waltz-length gowns, with matching slippers and petite bandeaux of leaves and veils, and they carried cascades of white fuji mums with pink tulle.

Robert Ann Caswell, niece of the bride, as flower girl, wore white organdy over pink tulle, and she carried pink and white daisies in a basket. Groomsmen were Richard Grosch, Robert Anderson, the bridegroom's uncle, and Charles Prigent, all of Warren.

The bride's mother had a charcoal grey acetate and rayon dress, black straw hat, black accessories, and a yellow rose corsage, while Mrs. Brown chose a blue cord dress trimmed in white, with a blue hat and accessories, and a pink rose corsage.

A reception on the lawn of the bride's parents was held at four p. m., with 125 present, including Mr. and Mrs. Halge Benson of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Benson, of Huntington, W. Va.

The four-tiered wedding cake which centered the table, was surrounded by pink rosebuds, and had a traditional bride and groom decoration. Master and Mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Halge Benson, and aides were Miss Margie Crespy, Lois Anderson, Patricia Prigent, Mrs. Carol Olson, Mrs. Lois Lindquist and Miss Romaine Lindquist. The bride's sisters, Mrs. Laura Johnson and Mrs. Faye Caswell poured coffee, Miss Gene Bloomquist cut the cake, and Miss Ruth Ann Johnson had charge of the guest book.

For traveling to the Pocono mountains, the bride wore a pink linen sheath with brown accessories and white rosebuds. The couple will be at home after September 8th at 133 1/2 Jefferson avenue, Warren.

A graduate of Falconer High School, class of '52, the bride is employed by Falconer GLE, and Mr. Brown graduate of Warren High, served two years in the U. S. Army and is employed by Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron Co.

Hostesses for pre-nuptial affairs were Mrs. Delbert Anderson, Mrs. Francis Brown, Mrs. Paul Lauffenburger, Mrs. Lois Anderson, Mrs. Benjamin, Mrs. Elmer Francis, Mrs. Ralph Brown, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Donald Caswell, Mrs. Alice Alexander, and the Misses Jean Gustafson, Barbara Roselli, Cosie Teressi, Romaine Lindquist, Karl Olson and Marjorie Crespy.

ABRAHAM AND LINQUIST REUNION
The 42nd annual reunion of the Abraham-Linquist families was held at Wilder Field at Irvine, with about 55 present. A tureen dinner was enjoyed at one o'clock, after which President Elmer Lindquist conducted a business session and the following were elected as officers: President, Harold Arthur; vice president, Edward Davis; secretary, Virginia Lindquist; treasurer, Violet Holm. It was decided to meet at the same place next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lindquist led games and stunts, which were enjoyed by all, and ice cream and cake were served in late afternoon.

Sunday's New York Herald-Tribune pictured an unusual accident near Clarion, Pa., on Saturday, when a car jumped up an embankment and smashed into a small barbershop, where it remained wedged three feet off the ground. The shop was empty and the motorist, Harold McFarland, was unhurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bevacqua, Ridgway, were in town to visit friends briefly on Sunday. Mr. Bevacqua, manager of the PICO store at Johnstown, will be remembered as a member of the Red Jackets squad which made football history here a few years back.

Vacation Briefs—Roadside advertisement seen near State College, Pa.: For Better Meats, Cook the Butcher; En route home from a weekend in Reading, the Party Line Editor and family enjoyed lunch in the Howard Johnson's at Harrisburg and met up with the Rut Sanfords, formerly of Warren. Mr. Sanford, former executive of the Chief Complaner Council, is now serving Boy Scouts of the Oil City area.

Pfc. Steven Olson, stationed at Ft. Bragg, N. C., is enjoying a 14-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hagerman, and his brothers, Prospect street.

The Gerald Newton family, Jackson avenue, returned Monday from their summer cottage at McConnell's Mills, near New Castle.

James R. Valone and D. L. Vatera, well known local bridge enthusiasts, made a fine showing in the Open Pair competition Sunday in the regional game at Pittsburgh, coming in second.

Mrs. C. R. Hooven, of Youngsville, accompanied by her son, Norris, of Corry, drove to New York City last week and spent some time with their former neighbors, the family of the late Tony Miller, who was a partner in Kay Miller Ice Cream Company of Warren.

Emma Fagley Giltinan and daughter, Betty, of Phoenix, Ariz., former Warren residents, spent last week here visiting relatives and friends, after having spent the past two months abroad, vacationing in Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, France, Spain and Italy. After leaving Warren, they will spend a few days in Tullahoma, Tenn., with their son and brother, Thomas, Jr.; before returning to Phoenix. From there, Betty will leave for San Jose, Calif., to resume teaching at Campbell High School, where she is an instructor in English and journalism.

Frantic Fifties Symbolize Pathetic Fight for Youth

SO many women today when they hit the fifties are trying so desperately to be young and gay we might call the age between the forties and sixties the Frantic Fifties.

You see them everywhere, these fifty-ish women who can't sit quietly for five minutes. Their voices are shrill. Their eyes are desperately bright. They seem to feel that if they can't have the center of the stage all the time they are in danger of being shoved abruptly into the background.

They are frantically busy, frantically gay, frantically trying to hang onto a youth that is already gone. In the faces of such women there is no tranquility, no calm, no real interest in other people.

Their bright smiles proclaim their attention when others talk but their eyes wander. In their endless fight against appearing "matronly" they starve until their figures fit into a size 12, obviously unaware that they have also starved hard lines into their faces.

Clothes aren't just an interest with these women frantically fighting to keep from looking like what they are. They're a fetish with these middle-aged women who should have kissed youth goodbye a long time ago.

SOME WORDS TO MULL OVER

IN an article called "Bottled Lightning" in the July Harper's Bazaar there is a line that middle-aged women might well give a little thought to.

"In the young and beautiful vivacity is delightful, but add a few years to vivacity and you have the jitter; give wild enthusiasm a tired voice and it begins to pant."

When severity is so appealing why should any woman make the fifties frantic by trying desperately to hold onto the vivacity of youth? It can never be duplicated by anyone no longer young.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your drugstore. Money back guaranteed.

AROUND THE WORLD

MIXED COMPANY—A rabble of laughing gulls is appraised scornfully by a small group of dignified brown pelicans from the Gulf of Mexico after their arrival in St. Louis, Mo., from Texas. Of the shipment of 30 birds, 26 were shore birds captured by the director of the zoo in San Antonio, who shipped them to St. Louis in exchange for some more exotic.

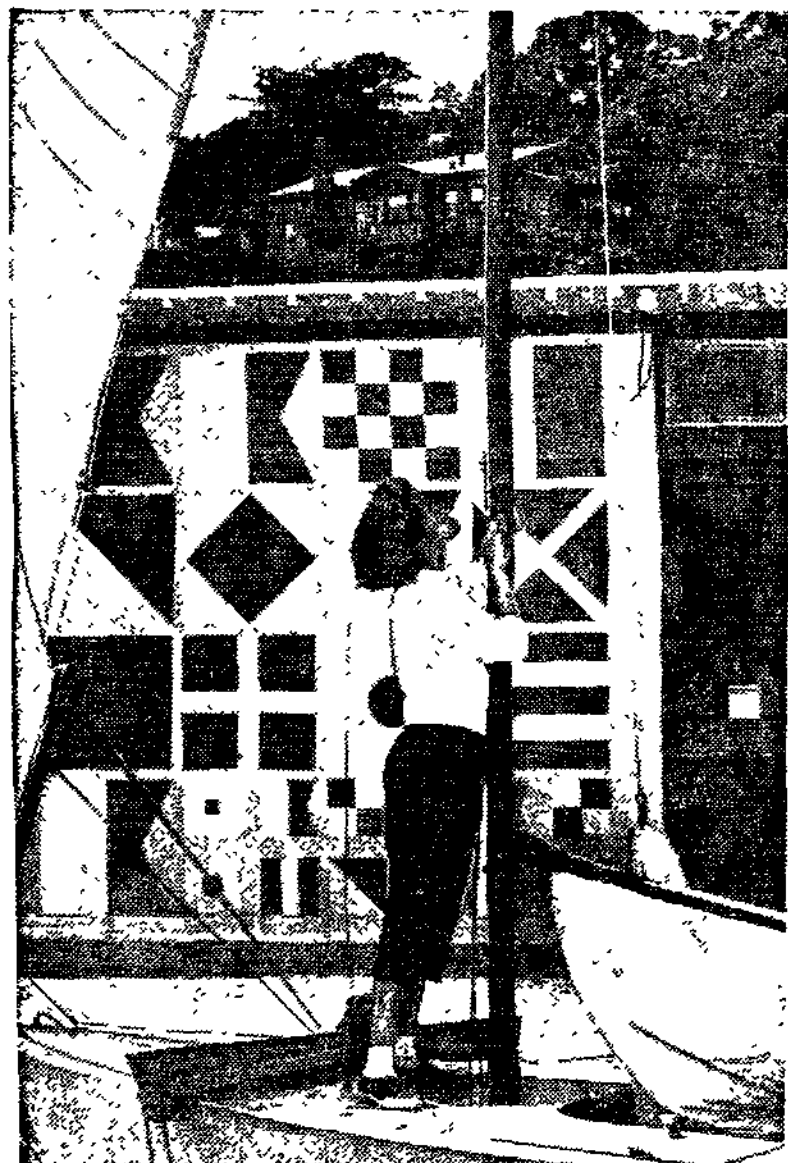

POLKA DOTS — The crisp subtlety of this new shirt is reminiscent of the detached-collar look. It transforms the polka-dotted pattern of the Gay Nineties into something smart for the well-groomed man of today. It features a short point collar of white pique and French cuffs of different color.

A GIRL AND A FRIEND—She's tiny three-year-old Christine Bayford who is renewing her acquaintance with a woolly llama in the Pet's Corner of the London Zoo. Although the little lady does not seem averse to a bit of public necking, the lofty llama has a mind of its own. The animal appears to be disdainful of the goings-on.

MAKING A PICTURE—As Jere Wright, Miss Hawaii of 1956, wields a deft brush on a Hawaiian beach, Beverly Rivera, a former Miss Hawaii, is looking on. Jere's hobby is painting but she and Beverly make a mighty nice picture by themselves, as they enhance the already beautiful shoreline.

BEACH BANK—On the edge of the harbor at Sausalito, Calif., a one-story bank advertises its uses via a sign on one wall. It's formed with international nautical flags in brightly-colored tile and provides facilities for the nautical set. Mary Delahav is shown adjusting the rigging on a beach sloop after paying a visit to the new institution.

RELAXING IN PARIS—As some natives sit along the Seine River and enjoy the warm sun, they're able to enjoy the sight of a passing river boat that is loaded with tourists. The happy riders, of course, can also look back at the seated figures along the shore and be gladder than ever that they're gliding along the waterway through the beautiful French capital.

MIRROR IN A POOL—Betty is a young giraffe at a zoo in Paris who seems to have a Narcissus complex. She spends many an hour walking around that pool and gazing happily at her own reflection in the water. It's obvious that Betty puts the pool's contents to a good use other than making it her mirror; she's lapping some of it up in the photo to show she likes a quenching drink after admiring herself.

NEW CROP IN ISRAEL

COTTON PICKIN'—Cotton has become a problem child on the world scene. The U.S. has too much of it, with countless bales stored away, and the Middle East has more than its share. But it's another story in Israel. Cotton is a new crop there and is being grown in the northern Negev desert area. A recently-arrived immigrant is shown picking some.

ANOTHER STEP—After being weighed, sacks of cotton are dumped onto a big pile by workers, top photo. It's then ready to be transported to the mill for ginning and baling. Below, a Yemenite woman is eating her lunch. She is one of the hundreds of immigrants at work harvesting Israel's cotton.

SWANK SWEATER — The ultimate in luxury for sweater girls is demonstrated by this gray cashmere embellished with a deep collar of blue-gray chinchilla. The sweater is ideal for late afternoon wear, and it's readily adaptable for an evening affair as well.

SURGING TIDE—Norwegian farmer Johannes Rovassmo is not out boating for pleasure. The "lake" he's rowing across is actually acres of farmland which were inundated by waters from the melting of a glacier. Hundreds of acres in southern Norway were destroyed.

Skyline Speedway Fans Blow Sky High During Sunday Races

A long standing feud between Stateline and Skyline Speedway Ovals near Sugar Grove erupted Sunday night at Skyline when drivers protested the disallowing of points earned at the other track and angry fans swarmed onto the speedway blocking the main 100-lap feature until after midnight.

The first indication of the impending storm arose in the High Point Race, when the top drivers in the point standings compete in a match race. When the roll call for drivers was made, Gus Nelson of Bradford who ranks third and Joe Sauner of Jamestown who is seated sixth, were not called. Both drivers immediately wanted to know why, and were informed that their points (in the case of Nelson totaling nearly 1,500 or approximately $500 in cold cash) had been pulled because they had raced on Saturday nights at an off-circuit local track.

Both drivers subsequently pulled their cars from the competition in protest and were joined by seven other popular drivers who went out on sympathy strike. The drivers had been previously threatened with this procedure by Wayne Bullers if they did not compete at Olean rather than local tracks, and had decided the long haul to Olean was unprofitable. (Bullers represents a three circuit combine including Skyline and Olean but not Stateline which held races Saturday night).

The walk-out of drivers dropped the field for the 100-lap feature to only 11 cars and as they lined up on the track, word of the revolt filtered through the stands. As the field of cars made the warm-up lap, preliminary to taking the starter's green flag, the fans flooded the track and the hassle was underway.

Cliff Coons, track owner, Pratt and Bullers went into a huddle and when no satisfaction could be reached, Coons discharged both men and announced that he would establish his own point system and honor all points won at the Skyline track by the drivers. The

Jimtown Falcons May Drop Out Of Pony League; Weather Blamed

Jamestown Sun: The Jamestown Falcons' final scheduled game of the 1956 season—and perhaps for all time—with the Erie Senators at Erie Friday night—was called off because of wet grounds, as the baseball gods swung the door full cycle on the locals. Jamestown's first game of the season at Wells-ville was rained out in the top half of the first inning.

Professional baseball in Jamestown appeared to have ground to a full and final stop with the announcement of franchise owner Jerry Lawson that he was throwing in the sponge after a dismal, rain-saturated season during which the turnstiles clicked for only approximately 22,000 fans, lowest attendance in the club's history.

In the red for something like $11,000, with approximately $4,000 outstanding to be collected, Lawson declared definitely he was through and would never tackle the Falcons' operation again. He did say, however, he would pay the $50 membership fee due today to keep the franchise alive, saying he did not feel that it should revert to the league, permitting anyone to pick it up simply by paying the Jamestown club's indebtedness.

Lawson did leave the door open for possible operation in 1957, the final decision hanging on the major-minor agreement, currently being worked out by a committee of big league moguls.

John Labesky hurled a beautiful game Labor Day afternoon as the Ludlow Wildcats defeated the Starlite Bombers 5-1 in an exhibition scrap at Wildcat Park which ended their season.

The Bombers had previously beaten Ludlow out for the championship of the Penn-York Semi-Prom baseball league. (The Starlite squad is currently engaged in a three-game series with the Marlin-Rockwell nine and split a pair with them over the weekend, Bombers winning 8-5 Saturday and Rollers bouncing back with a 6-4 decision Saturday. Final M-R-C and Bomber struggle will be this coming Saturday.)

Getting back to the Labor Day tilt, Labesky limited the power-laden Bombers to a paltry five hits while the Wildcats themselves hammered out 11.

Castagnino was big man for the Wildcats, slugging three hits including a pair of doubles in four trips, while Federko rapped two for two. B. Wilson, B. Kulka, Miglazzo, Caldwell, Smart and Labesky also hit safely.

In another exhibition contest Sunday, the Wildcats trounced the Poland, N. Y. nine, 10-4, behind the four hit pitching of L. Wilson. The Wildcats had 18 hits.

Rightfielder Lytle blasted a homer, Miglazzo had a triple and double as B. Kulka posted a double.

THIS WAY—Bob Shawkey shows Johnny Crosetti how he gripped the ball while winning 20 or more games for the New York Yankees, which the famous right hander did in four seasons. REDS VERY MUCH ALIVE AS THEY SPLIT WITH BRAVES AND STAY TIED WITH BROOKLYN

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
The Cincinnati Redlegs are getting downright uncooperative in that National League pennant chase. They just won't die.

Remember when they lost three straight in Brooklyn? And when they dropped three of four at Milwaukee? Or when they won only three of seven from the Braves and Dodgers in Cincinnati? It looked like it was time to buy beer for the wake.

Trouble is, the beer, not the Redlegs, wound up on ice. They had a dandy chance to get measured again in the Labor Day doubleheader at Milwaukee. They blew a 2-0 lead and lost the first game 3-2. Then they blew a 2-0 lead in the nightcap, but bounced back to pack it away on Ted Kluszewski's 34th home run and a long-haul relief job by Brooks Lawrence that beat the Braves 7-5.

The split kept the Redlegs within 3 1/2 games of first place Milwaukee and in a second place tie with Brooklyn, which split a pair with Pittsburgh. The Dodgers rallied to take the opener 4-3, but then got beat at their own game as the Pirates pulled a squeeze bunt to win the nightcap 3-2.

The other NL twinbills also were split. St. Louis defeated Chicago's Cubs 4-2, then lost 8-0. And Philadelphia smacked the New York Giants 5-1 before losing 2-1. In the American, Baltimore's Orioles kept Mickey Mantle homerless—putting him even with Babe Ruth's record 80-homer pace in 1927 with 47 in 133 games—but lost a doubleheader to the New York Yankees 6-1 and 5-0. Second place Cleveland slipped 8 1/2 games behind, losing 5-2 in a morning game at Kansas City, then winning the afternoon contest 2-1.

Chicago's White Sox split with Detroit, losing 11-8 and winning 4-3. Boston walloped Washington twice, 7-5 and 16-0. Frank Robinson hit his 38th home run, two shy of the rookie record, for the Redlegs in the opener, but Hank Aaron busted his 22nd and 23rd for a 2-all tie. Joe Adcock then broke it up in the ninth with a single after Aaron's double and Lew Burdette had his 18th victory. Johnny Klippstein was the loser, getting banged on the leg by Adcock's winning blow.

Cincinnati rocked 16-game winner Bob Buhl early in the nightcap and Klu then packed it away with a two-run sock in the fifth. Lawrence came on in the third to win his 18th. Bobby Thomson hit his 19th home run and Aaron hit his third of the day in the Braves' comeback trip.

A double by Sandy Amoros broke a 3-all first game tie for the Dodgers in the eighth against Bob Friend, but the 15-14 right-hander then came back in relief to save the second game decision for Elroy Face. Dick Groat's eighth-inning bunt squeeze home Lee Walls, who had tripled against Don Drysdale, with the winning run. Bill Virdon lined seven straight hits for the Bucs, starting with his 10th homer in the opener.

Murry Dickson, winning his 12th, had two RBI singles for the Cards in the opener, which Rip Repulski's two-run single put away in the seventh. Walt Moryn, who hit his 18th homer in the first game, smacked a pair in the nightcap along with Ernie Banks' 27th.

Bob Miller four-hit the Giants in the opener, backed by two-run singles by Del Ennis and Andy Seminick in the first inning. Jackie Brandt's eighth-inning single won the nightcap.

Johnny Kucks' 18th victory was a cinch in the Yankee opener after Yogi Berra hit his 24th and 25th homers for a 3-0 lead. Don Larsen then gave just four hits, fanning 10, to take the nightcap with Bill Skowron slugging a supporting home run. Orioles' Bob Nieman and Bob Boyd stretched their hitting streaks to 18 and 17 games, respectively.

Archers Report Hitting Variety of Live Targets

In addition to information on sectional, state and national tournaments the August news-letter of the Pennsylvania State Archery Association carried an article that told of the exceptional accuracy of two Pennsylvania bowmen in taking game and fish in this state. This year, prior to August 1, William Miller of Lebanon bagged 103 groundhogs. Another man, Oliver Kohl of Reading, shot 50 carp within the same period through the use of bow and arrow.

Tournament and field archery have caught on, and the ranks of bow and arrow shooters continue to swell. For many bow shooters, both men and women, the heights are reached when they go afield among the beauties of fall to stalk deer and other wild game, much as the American Indian did, long ago.

Skip Morine Takes Conewango Valley Country Club Golf Title

"Skip" Morine is the new golf champion of Conewango Valley Country Club.

In a thrilling match over the 36-hole route yesterday he bested "Pete" Juliano three up and two to play. Both golfers played exceptional golf, and the match was settled on the greens where Morine's torrid putter spelled the difference.

Four up and the end of the third round, Morine saw his lead dwindle to one when Juliano won the thirtieth, thirty-first and thirty-second holes. Morine then steaded to win the next two and the match.

It was the first title for "Skip" who has always been a top contender. Meanwhile other flights moved along to their conclusion. In the championship consolation, Bill Rice outlasted "Tony" Creal in a match which went 23 holes. He will play the finals with "Eggie" Schmidt.

In the First Flight "Tim" Creal defeated Phil Pritchard 7 and 5 and will play Harold Smith in the final match. In the consolation Tom Atwell, Sr. edged "Chuck" Blackman 1 and up and will meet either Bob Walsh or Bob Anderson.

Dr. Earl Myers is the winner of the Fourth Flight. He defeated Kerm Vancander 2 and 1 and earlier in the week won over Howard Colt 5 and 4. Merle Russell took the consolation by winning over Frank Perrin 3 and 1.

Albert Mitchell was the Fifth Flight titlist, his final match being with Joe Gobliger whom he defeated 5 and 4. No matches have been played in the consolation round.

"Scotty" Calderwood defeated Wendell Lawson to enter the finals of the Sixth Flight and will meet Lou Wanner or Neil Culbertson.

Sam Rasmussen won the right to play Bob Kopf for the Second Flight title by defeating "Westy" Ensworth. In the consolation, Walt Dremann will meet Bill Lundahl who won from Homer Culbertson in a match that went 19 holes.

G. N. Hamilton won from Dave Fuelhart, 1 up, in the Third Flight and will play Dean Anderson or Lloyd Cleveland. Norman Lundahl went into the finals of the consolation by a win over Dr. Jim Giunta and meets the winner of the Devere Kirberger-Ed Erickson match.

Grandpa 46 Years Old Rides 4,871st For a New Record

Del Mar, Calif. (AP)—On a day way back in 1927 a willing but completely anonymous young jockey rode a horse with the incredible name of Hugo K. Asher for a win at the fair grounds at Salt Lake City.

The exact date is obscure, the event most inauspicious, but the rider, a man named John Eric Longden, has come a long way since that afternoon in Salt Lake City.

For today Johnny Longden, almost 30 years later and some 25,143 trips aboard a horse around a race track, has won more races than any man in the history of the thoroughbred sport.

The galloping grandpa, 46-year-old Johnny, moved into the all-time winner's circle in dramatic manner here yesterday when he tied and then surpassed the international record held by England's Sir Gordon Richards.

The mark was 4,870. It had held firm since Sir Gordon, now an old friend of Longden's, retired in 1954.

Yesterday America's Sir John hung up a riding triple, climaxing with win No. 4,871 registered in sensational fashion in the feature race of the holiday weekend, the $33,350 Del Mar Handicap.

Longden scored on Arrogate for the second straight year in the Del Mar feature, and just for good measure, piloted the chestnut 5-year-old in new track record time of 1:47 for the mile and one-eighth.

He started the day with Two Totie and Three to break Sir Gordon's record. He advanced a notch in the second on a favorite, Dennis.

He has won in purses some $15,600,000. He has won 4,871 races. He has earned all he has, which is a large bank account, a fine home, a fine family.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

By The Associated Press
Chicago—Swaps ($2.80) stepped a mile in 1:33 2-5 in winning the $142,700 Washington Park Handicap by two lengths.

Del Mar, Calif.—Johnny Longden rode three winners, including Arrogate ($8,100) in the $33,350 Del Mar Handicap, to hang up a world record for winners with 4,871.

Eugene, Ore.—Ferry O'Brien, Olympic team member, bettered his own pending world record for the shot put with a heave of 62 feet 6 3/8 inches.

Darlington, S. C.—Curtis Turner, Roanoke, Va., scored a two-lap victory in the Southern 500-mile stock car race.

Forest Hills, N. Y.—Lew Head and Ashley Cooper of Australia were given scares by 19-year-old Leslie Dodson of Detroit and Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., respectively, before winning second round tennis matches in the National Singles championships.

DRAGONS PLAY EXHIBITION GAMES

The rebuilding Warren Dragons showed some cagey finesse and a few weak spots Labor Day afternoon as they played a series of intrasquad matches on Memorial Field before a crowd estimated at 400. The Jayvees showed a brand of ball which outclassed the sophomores as numerous substitutions were made. In a final victory, the tentative starting 11 rolled to a 20-6 win over the second varsity team, reds over whites in the second of the day. First contest is this Saturday afternoon when Warren opposes Cory at Memorial Field. At that time the Dragons will lay on the line a 17-game streak without a loss.

MIKE GIBBONS DIES
St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Mike Gibbons, well known as the "SL Paul phantom" in middle-weight boxing during the early 20s, died Friday at his home. He was 69. Gibbons suffered a heart attack while playing cards with his wife, Mary. A member of the Minnesota State Boxing Commission, Gibbons was instrumental in legalizing boxing in the state. He was a brother of Tom Gibbons, sheriff of Ramsey County here and a former heavyweight boxer who fought Jack Dempsey in a championship bout at Shelby, Mont.

LIL' ABNER®

By AL CAPP

Dear Lil' Abner Readers:

Do you like the Republican and Democratic candidates? Of course you do! You don't want them to be humiliated by being licked by Bullmoose in the election.

Here's how to spare them this shame:

1. If you are subnormal, have criminal tendencies, or are against progress, write me a letter saying you don't want me for President, on the deep freeze ticket.
2. I will count these few miserable letters, and deduct the paltry total from the mass of fine, thinking Americans who I am sure, will express their preference for President in the usual way--by not doing anything.
3. I will then show the other two candidates the results. They can then withdraw, and avoid bitter humiliation on election morning.

STORES TO BE OPEN ALL DAY WEDNESDAY

Area shoppers are reminded that most Warren retail stores will be open tomorrow afternoon because of yesterday's Labor Day holiday. Ordinarily stores close Wednesday afternoon at 1 p. m. but following a holiday the retailers remain open the entire day until 5 o'clock.

PEDESTRIAN KILLED

An auto struck and killed Alfred Dandoe, 60, of Reynoldsville, a pedestrian on Route 322 Saturday night near Brookville. The driver, Raymond Bogle, 33, of Erie, told state police Dandoe fell in the car's path while trying to hitchhike.

DIES AFTER FALL

Jamestown Sun. Carl A. (Bill) Anderson, 62, of 131 Fulton Street, died at Buffalo General Hospital, Sunday from injuries suffered when he fell four floors down an elevator shaft at Watson Manufacturing Company No. 1 Plant, about 6:05 P. M. Thursday, Aug. 23.

NABS TOP HONORS

A Beagle hound owned by Dave Mainoble, a member of Conewango Valley Beagle Club of Warren, won first place at a Beagle field trial held at Clifford, Pa., Saturday, September 1. This is the second first place for "Ben Time", who now needs one more first place win to become a field trial champion. The present "American Kennel Club" rules state that a hound, to become a field trial champion, must have a total of 120 points plus three first place wins. "Ben Time" has acquired more than 200 points and only needs one first to bring Warren its first Beagle field trial champion. Ben Time will be running at Galeton, Pa., this Saturday, September 8, and all Beagle fans in the area hope he can put Warren in the Win.

GIRL SWIMS LAKE

Ann Gunkler, nine-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter A. Gunkler of 59 East Terrace avenue, Lakewood, swam across Chautauqua Lake Monday from the Kendall Club to the Yacht Club, a distance of just over one mile. Ann, who will start the fourth grade at Southwestern Central School this year, entered the water on the east side of the lake at 12:30 and walked ashore at the Yacht Club just 1 hour and 35 minutes later. Accompanying the youthful swimmer were two boats, one operated by her father and the second by Richard Olson of Greenghurst. The swim, considered a grueling task for an amateur adult swimmer, had little effect on the Lakewood lassie, for her first words to her father on completing the swim were: "Can I go water-skiing now, Daddy?"

JAMESTOWN FIRE

Fire at L-S Aero Marine Inc., boat house, 365 Fluvanna avenue, Jamestown, N. Y., burned a building containing four cabin cruisers, shortly before noon Sunday. Boats and buildings were a total loss, with damage estimated at $50,000. Two persons were burned while fighting flames, a Jamestown fireman and a boat owner inside the structure when the fire broke out. Flames and smoke from the fire went high in the sky, attracting many viewers to the scene just inside the city line. Cars and pedestrians crowded roads for a mile around the scene, as viewers tried to get to the Fluvanna avenue address.

SEPTEMBER GREETING

"Mohr" things over the editor's desk than we have space to mention, but we received a greeting from Mohr's Printery this morning which pleased us immensely. In fact, the mohr we thought about it, the mohr we liked it. It is a calendar for the month of September, each date listing events for that date, including important meetings, sports events, holidays, the Jewish New Year on the 6th and 7th, and mohr things than you can shake a stick at. Sundays are reserved for the reminder "Go to church", and the placard is backed with a blotter. Our good friend, and one-time associate, Bill Lombard, who has operated the Mohr printery at 810-812 Pennsylvania avenue east for the past few weeks is the sender, and we hope he sends mohr.

PARADES AT TITUSVILLE

The American Legion Post Drum and Bugle Corps received flattering mention on its appearance in the oil Festival parade held in Titusville Saturday night. Says the Herald: "Another snappy musical outfit was the Warren American Legion 'Cornplanters.'" The parade witnessed by 10,000 on-lookers brought to climax the 1956 Festival. Various queens presented bright spots in the long line of march. Oil Queen Joan Masteller of West Hickory rode on her throne on her own float, flanked by runnerup Margaret Walter of Grand Valley and another contestant, Cecile Lavada Martin of Titusville, Miss Crawford County of 1956, and Carolyn Smith of Tionesta, RD 1, Tionesta Centennial Queen, rode on the Suburban Furniture Co. float.

Spanish soldiers were riding up the valleys of New Mexico less than 50 years after the sailing of Columbus.

MORE NAMES ADDED TO GALLON CLUB

Warren County Red Cross Chapter announces two more names have been added to the Two Gallon Donor Club, as the result of the last Bloodmobile visit. They are Harold Cameron, Warren, and Lewis Spangler, Warren.

Six additional names have also been added to the Gallon Donor Club roster: George Hoff, Robert E. Geiger, Gail Hansen, Hoard Ladner, Warren; George Gheras, Clarendon; Arvid Gruber, Akley.

RESURFACING

Battin Backtop Company of Cambridge Springs this morning put the finishing touches on the short stretch of resurfacing they have been completing east of Fifth avenue bridge to Conewango avenue. This afternoon they were expected to start resurfacing Third avenue from Market street to Pennsylvania avenue. The firm also has contracted to sealcoat several borough side streets.

WEDDING APPLICATIONS

Four couples have applied for marriage applications at the Registrar and Recorder office of Gurney Hall. They are George Harold Littlefield, of Frewsburg, and Beverly Jean Taft, Warren; Harry Donald Overbeck, Ludlow, and Beverly Anna Dunn, Clarendon; Edward Dudson Rixby, III, Media, and Joyce Ann Sponser of Warren; Vincent Warren Hare of RD Kennedy, and Grace Elizabeth Woodward, Jamestown.

JUVENILES BUSY

Warren County Sheriff's Department reported today that juveniles have been busy in a little extralegal activity the past month. A camp at Kinzua, another owned by C. M. Bannion, Jones Chevrolet garage in Sheffield and F. W. Ewing Company currently engaged in construction on Route 6 west of Warren, have all felt the pinch. Liquor disappeared from the Kinzua camp, miscellaneous items vanished from the Bannion Camp and $38 dissolved at Jones Chevrolet, Sheriff's Department, State troopers and Conewango Township officials combined in apprehending the youthful poachers and recovered most of the loot. Clifford Geger, 28, of Starbuck, was sentenced to ten days by Justice Fred Berry in Starbuck when the man could not pay prosecution costs for borrowing gas from the Ewing Company. The youngsters will await Juvenile Court action.

AFL-CIO Labor Day rally.

Truman told the newsmen the Republican administration was motivated by "legal racketeers."

"They are legal racketeers," Truman said. "They have thrown away the assets of the United States Government and they are working on a tax program that helps the big man and disregards the little fellow."

Truman made the statement in reply to a question about his use of the word "racketeers" in a speech at the Democratic Convention in Chicago.

Attacking the Republicans in his speech before 5,000 people last night at the rally, Truman said the GOP administration was "dominated by the money changers" and warned farmers and laboring people not to put their faith in "the smooth talk of Republican orators."

EUB Ministers Are All Returned To Area Pastorates

Pastoral assignments for the coming year brought to a close on Sunday afternoon the annual sessions of the Erie Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren denomination at Findley Lake, N. Y.

Returned to their respective parishes were the following: The Rev. C. B. Kinney, to Warren's First church; Vincent Rothwell, to Bethel; Francis Fehlmann, to Salem; F. Eugene Donelson, Youngsville; LeRoy Lundgren, Clarendon-Weldbank charge; Gerald Lundeen, Bear Lake.

Rev. David Derk comes to Chancellors Valley-Pittsfield charge to succeed Rev. Meredith Swift, who moves to Kaneville, near Oil City; Cable Hollow, now a separate pastorate, will be served by Rev. Wayne Ostrander, just graduated from Houghton College. He succeeds Rev. Charles Gatty, who remains at Jamestown Stillwater church.

Rev. Byron Berry is returned to Rapids, near Lockport; Rev. Harold Lundquist, formerly of Youngsville, continues at Erie Glenwood; Rev. Curtis Gould is returned to Harris Hill, near Williamsville; Rev. Leon Tickner, whose wife is the former Virginia Maeder, of Warren, is returned to White Memorial in Buffalo; and Rev. Roger Morey, former Bethel minister here, continues to serve Bradford West Branch parish.

Just night of peace in eight days Anderson County Sheriff Glad Woodard said a white mob member was wounded by a Negro during the riotous eruption after an unfounded rumor spread that the Oliver Springs schools would be integrated today.

Eighty of the 633 National Guardsmen and two of the 10 tanks stationed here were moved out to Oliver Springs early today to quell the new riot.

Mansfield, Tex. (A)—Texas Ranger Capt. Bob Crowder today announced that any Negroes who attempted to register at the all white high school here will be transferred immediately to another school district.

He made the announcement after conferring with R. L. Huffman, superintendent of schools. Crowder said such action would follow a suggestion made Friday by Gov. Allan Shivers.

Crowder said Negroes would be transferred "for safety reasons."

Six Texas Rangers, including Crowder, arrived about 7:15 a. m. as did a crowd of men and youths which quickly swelled to about 100 persons.

Corry Area Lad Killed Near Community Church

Corry. — An eight-year-old district boy, running a foot race with companions near here Sunday, dashed across Route 426 directly into the path of an oncoming car and was killed instantly.

The youth, Thomas Mick of Corry, RD 4, was the second fatality in the section over the Labor Day weekend.

State Police from the Corry substation said the boy was killed at 10:30 a. m. in front of the Wheelock Community Church three miles north of here.

Deputy Coroner Robert Bracken said Thomas suffered a head injury, internal injuries, a fractured pelvis and a broken leg. A verdict of accidental death was issued.

The boy, who was pronounced dead on arrival at the Corry Memorial Hospital, was hit by a car driven by Arthur H. Riley, 54, of Cuba, N. Y.

The Mick youth had been running a foot race with other youngsters while they were waiting outside the church for their parents after they had been to Sunday School.

Troopers said cars were parked in front of the church, making it almost impossible for the driver to see the boy until it was too late to avoid hitting him.

The straight-away in front of the church is a 50-mile-per-hour zone.

California is the leading turkey producing state, with Minnesota second.

State troopers who investigated estimated damages to the first two cars at about $42,000 as both were completely wrecked. The third machine was damaged to the extent of an estimated $250.

The coroner was informed by relatives of the Laffertys that the young couple, married last May, was en route from Meadville, to Springville, N. Y., to make a holiday visit with his grandmother, Mrs. Harold Dooley, a former Warren resident. Mrs. Dooley arrived in Warren late yesterday afternoon to be at the bedside of her injured grandson.

Mr. Lafferty, it was learned, is employed by the Loblaw store chain, in the Meadville market, but had been transferred last week to the New Castle store, to take up his new duties today. The young couple had secured accommodations at New Castle, and the Meadville relatives were of the impression that they were in that city when the accident occurred.

Early Saturday morning relatives of the unfortunate young couple arrived in Warren, including Lawrence Boyersmith and his daughter Evelyn, father and sister of the dead girl, and Mr. and Mrs. James Lafferty, father and mother of the injured man. They live at RD 1, Meadville.

The accident occurred almost in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Irwin, Rt. 2, Sugar Grove, about a mile south of the Jackson Run road, on Route 27 leading from Sugar Grove to Youngsville. The impact of the collision when the Chase car hit the Lafferty machine threw the latter to the right of the highway within a few feet of the embankment skirting the nearby Jackson Run which was running full at the time because of the hard rain of the evening.

Lafferty was found to have sustained a broken rib, fracture of the thigh bone, and numerous body bruises and contusions. A clot from the leg injury is reported to have brought about his state of coma. Examined at the hospital it was found that his wife had received a broken neck when thrown from the car, along with a serious scalp injury above the right ear and a deep laceration on the right cheek bone below the right eye.

Her death was instantaneous. Jane Therese Boyersmith Lafferty is survived by her father, sister Evelyn and brother Joseph. Before her marriage she worked in the telephone office at Meadville.

Fourth Flash Flood

sell Edey went on a rampage

Up near Lottsville LR 61023 was badly washed by the currents Down near Tidoute, LR 61012 and Route 452, both stemming from Torpedo, were gouged along the berms.

Superintendent Walker said today that repair work was beginning on Valentine Creek which ran wild once again Friday afternoon in the Cinderella Lake area. Extremely hard hit by all four flash floods of the summer, a bull dozer will be used to dredge a new channel and reroute the current away from Lovers Lane Road which has been all but impassable since July as each succeeding torrent chewed more of the blacktop away, pushing the road further back against a hillside.

Final repair work also was begun today on the bridge over Jackson Run on the highway just below Logan's Farm. First gouged by the storm July 26, repair work has been held up by the bad rains. One way traffic has been in effect there for almost a month.

Conewango Creek remained high all during the holiday weekend and low lying areas were flooded along its entire length. Allegheny River also remained two to three feet higher than its usual stage as turbulent currents from tributaries throughout its watershed areas dumped rapidly into its swollen current. Heavy rains of Saturday night kept both the Conewango and Allegheny high but clearing skies for the past two days had caused a slight recession of both currents today.

The flash floods of Friday lasted even more briefly than the previous ones. By shortly after 6 p. m., less than two hours following the storm, most of the waters had receded back to their channels and all that was left in town were muddy gutters.

Streams throughout the county remained high during most of the weekend, however, as drainage areas were saturated by the week of steady rains.

Shortage of Water Industry Mishaps In 50 Years Seen Kill 67 in State By Clearfield Man During June, 1956

Harrisburg (AP) — Rep. Breth (D-Clearfield) says Pennsylvania will face a water shortage "of magnitude" in 50 years unless conservation methods are utilized promptly.

Breth, co-chairman of a legislative investigation committee on the state's surface and underground water supplies, said Pennsylvania will double its water usage in 25 years and added:

"Then we will have a problem of where to get sufficient water and in 50 years we will be up against a water shortage of magnitude."

Breth said the committee, also headed by Sen. Van Sant (R-Lehigh), will meet next Tuesday to hear testimony from Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters; Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, state health secretary; William Voigt, executive director of the State Fish Commission, and other state officials.

Breth said the "hopes" public hearings in the matter would be held shortly.

In citing the need for conservation, Breth said any increase in industry in central Pennsylvania "will eat heavily into the water supply" because of a rainfall problem.

He pointed out that the Allegheny River is the only major waterway in the northwest section of the state.

Breth estimated that Pennsylvania will double its present water consumption in 25 years. Pennsylvania uses about a half billion gallons of water daily.

The committee is acting as a task force of the Joint State Government Commission and will report its findings and recommendations to the 1957 General Assembly.

The committee plans to meet in Allentown on Sept. 12 to review water problems in the Susquehanna Valley of Lehigh County. In that area some 500 rural residents and farmers contend their wells are going dry because of the tremendous use of water by a mining company.

On-the-job accidents in Pennsylvania industries fatally injured 67 workers during June 1956, John R. Torquato, Secretary of Labor and Industry announced today. This compares with 56 fatalities reported in May and 65 in June 1955.

Lost-time injuries reported to the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation totaled 7,373 in June. While this was 6.1 per cent less than the 7,854 disabling injuries recorded in May, it was 3.3 per cent over the total of 7,139 for June 1955. Comparison with the average figure for 1955 shows this month's total at a level 5.4 per cent higher.

More than 58 per cent, or 4,283 disabling injuries occurred in Non-manufacturing industries. This includes 55 deaths, or 82.1 per cent of the total fatalities. Construction and contracting firms reported 921 work injuries of which 10 proved to be fatal cases. Retail trade workers suffered injuries in 661 cases and 529 state and municipal employees were disabled during the month of June. Eight workers were killed in anthracite mines, eight in transportation industries other than railroads and six died in bituminous mine mishaps. Among state and municipal employees there were seven fatalities.

Manufacturing industries reported 3,090 lost-time injuries including 12 fatal cases. Iron and steel industries led this group with 413 injuries in the primary ferrous metals category and 583 in fabricated iron and steel production. Transportation equipment manufacturers reported 349 workers disabled and 337 employees in food and kindred products firms lost time from their jobs.

Twenty-four workers were killed in motor vehicle accidents in June. A total of 924 workers suffered disabling injuries as a result of accidents involving vehicles used in industry. In 697 cases, accidents were caused by working surfaces, 696 employees were hurt while operating power working machines, and 643 injuries occurred while using hand tools. Agencies causing accidents were defective in 44 per cent of the cases reported and 41.4 per cent were the result of hazardous arrangement, procedure, etc.

Kind of Accident—Over 80 per cent, or 2,226 workers were injured when struck by objects. Slipping and over-exertion accounted for 20.9 per cent, or 1,543 of the cases reported in June.

Cuts, lacerations, punctures and bruises caused lost working time in 3,252 cases, or 44.1 per cent. Sprains, strains and dislocations were the result of 1,681 accidents at work, and in 1,156 cases, fractures were suffered. The most frequently affected parts of the body were: feet and ankles, 1,120 cases; fingers, 1,097 cases; back and spine, 1,083 cases; hands and wrist, 759 cases; and legs, 690 cases.

Almost 80 per cent, or 5,816 of the work injuries resulted in time loss exceeding seven days. Time loss of seven days or less was reported in 1,381 cases, and 109 injuries were classified as permanent partial disability cases. Of these, 85 were caused by dismemberment, 22 resulted in disfigurement and 2 in loss of use. No permanent total disability case was recorded in June.

Health Officials Watching Sleeping Sickness Outbreaks

Washington (AP)—Public health officials are watching with concern, but without great alarm, spotty outbreaks of sleeping sickness among men and animals across the country.

The concern comes from the fact that sleeping sickness, a form of encephalitis, is often fatal. But the number of cases reported so far in 1956 was classed by specialists as about average, although there are disturbing concentrations in some places.

The New York State Racing Commission has prohibited shipment of race horses into the state from anywhere in New England, because of a reported outbreak of sleeping sickness there.

A recent Associated Press survey showed sleeping sickness among men, animals, or both reported this year in 20 states. At least six human fatalities were reported; in a seventh the diagnosis was not positive.

The reports gave a total of 447 cases of encephalitis among humans. However, 357 of these came from California with the notation they had not all been typed. Dr. Carl Dauer of Public Health Service headquarters here said that almost certainly only a few of these cases were true sleeping sickness.

Dr. Dauer expressed the opinion that most of the 62 cases reported in Ohio, the next highest state total, were also not sleeping sickness.

The fatalities attributed to the disease were two each in Missouri and Massachusetts, and one each in Idaho and Maryland. A third death in Massachusetts was tentatively diagnosed as due to sleeping sickness.

There is no treatment for sleeping sickness that has proved effective, the specialists agreed. A vaccine has been developed which protects horses from developing the disease, but there is no mass vaccination of humans.

The virus that causes the disease is believed to live on, year after year, in wild birds that do not themselves develop sleeping sickness. Mosquitoes transmit the virus from birds to men and animals, especially horses. Men do not catch the disease from horses, but an outbreak among horses is nevertheless a danger signal, since the same mosquitoes can carry the same virus from the same sources to humans.

Too Much for Too Little
Corry (AP)—It might not have happened if John Adams, of Roscoe, N. Y., hadn't been driving a miniature sports car over a narrow steel bridge near Corry.

But he was driving a miniature sports car as he and John Zawacki of nearby Ridgway, approached the bridge from the opposite directions.

Zawacki figured his standard sized car and the small sports car could pass on the bridge with a few inches to spare. So did Adams. Both were wrong. They got wedged together in the middle of the steel span.
